Mesa + Sustainability.

We see sustainability as an ever-evolving challenge. We are constantly innovating to reduce waste and minimize our impact on the world around us.

The Mesa Collection has been designed to reflect our key sustainability pillars.

- Sustainable Design

When the objects around us are inclined to lose value. Harrows have set out to create beautiful and sustainable products that add value to their environment for years to come. Mesa has been designed with timeless design principals, made from quality materials and built to last.

- New Zealand Made

Mesa is produced in our own factory in Timaru from locally manufactured components, minimising both international and local freight volumes. Manufacturing inhouse also gives us full control and transparency over the quality and origin of all materials.

- Refurbishing

We believe in circularity. Alongside our passion for making beautiful products designed to last, we acknowledge that requirements for interior spaces will change and evolve over time, as will their furniture needs. Mesa can be easily refurbished or tops swapped out with replacements.

- Reducing Consumption and Waste

Mesa is easily disassembled and freighted in kitset to reduce volumes and allowing for easy repair, reuse or recycling, and has been designed to improve the efficiency of material consumption.
